Key

Barril

A diagram of a five-stringed instrument, likely a barril, shown in a simplified musical notation. The instrument has five strings, each with a note. The notes are labeled from left to right: hondo, abierto, seco, slap, and campana. The strings are represented by horizontal lines, and the notes are placed on these lines. The 'slap' note has a small 'v' symbol above it.

Barril

The first staff of music for the Sicá Solo. It begins with a 2/4 time signature. The notation includes various rhythmic patterns, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. There are also some slurs and accents (marked with '>') over certain notes.

6

The second staff of music, starting with a measure number '6'. It continues the rhythmic patterns from the first staff, featuring similar note values and rests. There are also some triplets (marked with '3') and accents (marked with '>') over certain notes.
