

Sicá Solo

Key

Barril

A diagram of a five-stringed instrument, likely a barril, shown in a simplified musical notation. The instrument has five strings, each with a note. The notes are labeled from left to right: hondo, abierto, seco, slap, and campana. The strings are represented by horizontal lines, and the notes are placed on these lines. The 'slap' note has an accent mark (>) above it.

Barril

The first staff of music for the Sicá Solo. It is in 2/4 time, indicated by the time signature. The staff contains several measures of music, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. There are accent marks (>) above several notes. The notation is in a simplified style, focusing on rhythm and pitch.

6

The second staff of music for the Sicá Solo. It begins with a measure number '6'. The staff contains several measures of music, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. There are accent marks (>) above several notes. The notation is in a simplified style, focusing on rhythm and pitch. There are also triplet markings (3) above some of the notes.
